

Borax

Introduction

Boron (B) is an important micronutrient that is required by all plants for normal growth and development. Along with Calcium, Boron is involved in cell wall structure. Its major roles are, cell division, its development & strengthening, hormone development and Ca movement into plant.

Other important Boron functions are translocation of sugars and carbohydrates, Nitrogen metabolism, formation of certain proteins, regulation of hormone levels and transportation of Potassium to stomata which regulates internal water balance. It also has role in flower production, retention, pollen tube elongation & germination and fruit & seed development.
